OUTDOOR COLLECTION 2026 • MADE FOR MOMENTS

This is an invitation to slow down, step outside and create places to feel at ease, grounded, and welcome.

At mindo, we design outdoor furniture for real life. Not for display, not for performance - but for the hours when time softens and people stay a little longer than planned. We believe the outdoors is not an escape from everyday life. It is where everyday life becomes whole again.

Life has become faster and more digital. Many of us spend our days indoors, in front of screens. Outdoors offers something different: time that moves more slowly, materials you can feel, and space to be together.

This is where mindo fits in.

Our furniture is designed to support this return. Calm forms. Tactile surfaces. Proportions that invite the body to relax and the conversation to unfold. We work with materials that age with dignity and designs that do not ask for attention, but reward time. Pieces made to hold long evenings, shared meals, silence, laughter, and the simple joy of being together.

Mindo is built on the belief that nature, connection, and care are inseparable. When we sit well, we listen better. When we feel supported, we open up. Outdoor furniture becomes more than objects - it becomes infrastructure for presence.

This catalogue is an invitation. To slow down. To step outside. To create places where people feel at ease, grounded, and welcome. Places where nothing needs to be optimized. Where being is enough.

Happy reading!

MATERIALS

Honest, enduring materials chosen for their beauty, strength, and feel.

Our designers

At mindo, we are proud of the relationship we have with our designers. We share a love for aesthetics, functional design, and high craftsmanship. And we share a passion for details and a mindset, where we aim to push "good enough" to something better.

RIKKE FROST

Rikke, a Danish designer, has run her design studio in Århus since 2004. When designing, Rikke focuses on the relevance and longevity of a product and its impact on our environment, both now and in the future. Rikke's designs for mindo are minimal without ever losing comfort, functionality, or aesthetic magic. Her furniture has a playful quality to it, which she emphasizes with thoughtful details for the user to discover and engage with.

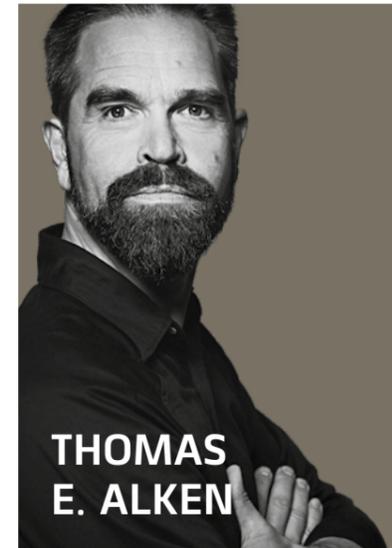

CHRISTIAN JUHL

Christian is a gifted Danish design talent who has won numerous prestigious prizes, amongst them the renowned Finn Juhl design prize (there is no family connection). He feels that part of his strength as a furniture designer stems from his background in carpentry. For mindo, Christian used innovative 3D-knit, a fabric made from recycled bottles to create the unique mindo 114 chairs. Central to Christian's design philosophy is the aim that his furniture serves a purpose and is functional, regardless of its sculptural aesthetic.

ODOSDESIGN

The Valencia-based design-agency Odosdesign, namely Ana Segovia and Luis Calabuig, are dedicated to integrating creativity and communication in product design. In their collaboration with mindo, their success lies in the ability to understand and translate our vision into furniture that truly embodies our initial ideas. By emphasizing the core element of each creation and placing focus on comfort and usability, their iconic designs accurately convey our mindo mindset.

THOMAS E. ALKEN

Thomas is a Danish designer with a design studio in the heart of Copenhagen. Central to Thomas' design philosophy is the interaction between a product and its user, his creative process always starts with an understanding of the user's needs. Thomas shares mindo's meticulous attention to detail and materials that are the responsible choice in terms of sustainability and longevity. Privately, Thomas draws inspiration from the dynamic interplay between the established and modern design scene of the bustling city, as well as his passion for simple living in the countryside.

JESPER K. THOMSEN

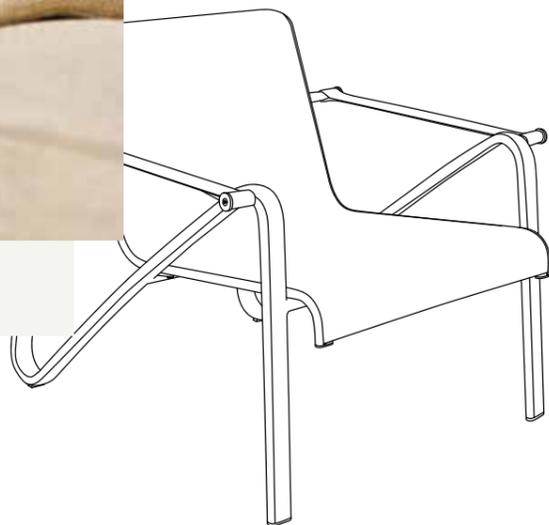

Jesper is a Danish versatile talent, both a creative industrial designer and a detail-oriented inventor. His dedication to any product he works with stems from his holistic approach to innovation and problem-solving. His own aversion to handling and storing large extension plates when hosting many guests led him to the ingenious design of a table with an extendable top. This unique solution resulted in a patent in cooperation with mindo and the backbone of a large range of extension tables and benches, namely the mindo 111 series.

MORTEN BO JENSEN

Morten Bo Jensen, founder and Chief Designer at GROUNDWORK Studio in Copenhagen, shares a strong passion with mindo's core values in pursuing designs with longevity, innovation, and relevance. For the mindo 123 collection, Morten seamlessly blends Danish and Japanese design traditions. The minimal, functionally derived shapes, and the use of braided cords, embody Danish influences, with the diamond-shaped tabletop woodwork drawing inspiration from the intricate Japanese Kumiko craftsmanship.

mindo LOUNGE

The Lounge collection is made for slowing down. For long afternoons, soft conversations, and evenings that unfold without hurry. For sinking in, leaning back, and staying a while. Furniture that lets time pass without noticing.

Designed to come apart.
Designed to last.
Season after season.

mindo 122 is designed with longevity in mind - both structurally and practically. Every element is considered for life outdoors, across changing seasons and shifting weather. The cushions are weather-resistant and easy to maintain. A passing summer rain is not a problem. Daily use is not a concern. What sets the collection apart is what happens when the season changes.

The side and back panels are fully removable. To prepare for storage, simply loosen two small screws on the armrests. Unzip the panels beneath the frame and lift them off. The process takes minutes and protects the upholstered elements during the off-season. When spring returns, the sofa is just as easy to reassemble - restored to its original form, comfort, and stability.

Warm elements - teak, rope, and fabric - are balanced with cool aluminium and a ceramic tabletop.

Designed through material, experienced through comfort.

Rope adds softness and strength. Teak brings warmth and a natural feel. Aluminium provides stability while keeping the construction light.

The ceramic tabletop may look delicate, but it is hard-wearing and well-suited for outdoor use. Each material has a clear purpose, chosen for performance.

At mindo, we create furniture that enhances your space and aligns with a more eco-conscious approach.

Great design shouldn't just look good; it should last. That's why we focus on timeless, functional pieces made with high-quality materials and smart, repairable features. Instead of replacing, you can refresh, extending the life of your furniture and cutting down on waste.

We're rethinking how we work, from sourcing more local materials to shortening supply chains and optimizing packaging. It's all about reducing our footprint while delivering the same durability, premium quality, and faster lead times.

For us, sustainability is a journey. Every decision we make - choosing replaceable teak slats or designing rope panels you can switch - brings us closer to better balance. And for you? It's about owning furniture that feels right and lasts through the years, from the day you bring it home to the day you pass it on. With mindo, you're choosing furniture that fits your space, your values, and a smarter future.

mindo 103 Daybed L197 cm · W84 cm · SH39 cm

The understated daybed is designed with comfort and well-being at its core.

Its minimal expression is confident yet quiet - strong enough to stand on its own, subtle enough to blend naturally into its surroundings. The result is a place to pause, slow down, and step away from the day. A weather-resistant cushion rests on a specially developed webbing structure, creating a deep, supportive comfort that invites long moments of rest.

The sand-coloured tone was chosen deliberately - light, neutral, and calming - so the patio remains a pleasant sight, even in winter. Made from durable polyester, the covers shield furniture from dust, dirt, and rain. A drawstring at the bottom keeps them securely in place, even in windy conditions.

Who knew covered furniture could look this good?

Available in a range of sizes, each cover is tailored to fit different mindo pieces. Subtle in expression and reliable in use, they offer practical protection with the same care and restraint found in the furniture itself.

Materials

We carefully select top-quality materials for our furniture from specialised, premium European and global suppliers committed to sustainability and to minimizing their carbon footprint. Using superior materials guarantees that our products are durable for everyday use and resilient against various weather conditions, ensuring the longevity of our products.

Fabrics

Our fabrics, sourced from premium European suppliers, are of consistently excellent quality. They exhibit excellent weather resistance (UV, temperature, mold) and stain resistance (antibacterial, hydrophobic). It's important to note that prolonged exposure to varying climatic impacts may decrease their effectiveness over time.

Regular removal of dirt and covering during extended periods of rain will prolong their lifetime. Stored cushions must be completely dry before covering and aired regularly.

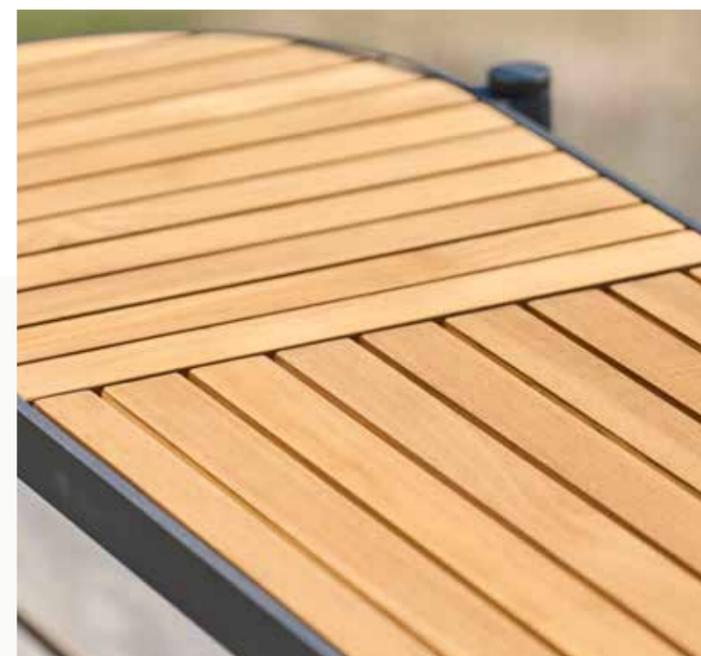

Bamboo is a natural, very strong, and sustainable material that can be harvested every 4-6 years. Bamboo is flexible, elastic, and thus resilient to breaking, even when under pressure.

Bamboo furniture must be treated regularly with an oil suitable for outdoor furniture to maintain its high quality. Our bamboo is certified by a responsible source.

Bamboo

Teak

All our teak is from certified forests, meeting all strict international regulations. The teak used in our furniture is untreated as we believe that the aging process of teak with its silver-grey patina honours this fantastic material best. All teak parts in our furniture can be replaced individually if necessary, contributing to long-lasting furniture.

Ceramic

Our Techlam® ceramic tabletops are produced in Spain by renowned Levantina. Ceramic is an extremely strong and practically maintenance-free material and ideal for outdoor use in almost any climate. Small variations in the surface may occur as the tops are made from natural, recycled materials. This does not affect the quality of the product. If necessary, the ceramic tiles can be replaced individually contributing to the longevity of the furniture.

Rope

Rope is made of Olyna fibers, 100% solution-dyed polypropylene, in Italy and completely recyclable, soft and "wool-like" to the touch, compliant with the Oeko-Tex standard 100 class 1, anti-bacterial, and extremely resistant to climatic influences. The colours are inspired by nature, and the depth in the tones is created by weaving different coloured fibers together. In the hands of our skilled craftsmen, the material gives life to comfortable, sculptured, and unique pieces of outdoor furniture.

HPL

High-pressure laminate, also called HPL, is produced in Germany and is specially fabricated for outdoor use. The HPL plates are made of resin-impregnated layers of paper, pressed together under extremely high pressure and heat. The tops are weather-resistant (UV, temperature, moisture) and have an extraordinary resistance to scratches, abrasions, and impacts. Regular cleaning of the surface is the only maintenance necessary.

3D-KNIT

Our 3D-knit fabric is a specially developed material made from recycled plastic bottles. Its advanced knit structure offers both natural flexibility and supportive comfort, shaping gently to the user's back.

The open construction ensures excellent airflow, while the material is UV-protected and resistant to weather influences, and made to perform beautifully outdoors.

Aluminium

Aluminium is a lightweight, yet strong and durable material, ideal for outdoor furniture due to its corrosion resistance. We use state-of-the-art powder-coating techniques in our production process. Powder-coating technology is an eco-friendly and safe process to best protect and prolong longevity of outdoor furniture from weather influences as well as minor scratches. To ensure the highest quality, every frame and slat is individually treated and quality checked by our meticulous craftsmen.

Batyline Eden

Batyline Eden is a refined outdoor textile fabric with a light, open weave that allows air to flow freely. Its subtle texture gives a soft, textile feel, while the material remains UV-resistant, quick-drying, and easy to maintain. Durable and elegant, developed for life outdoors.
